

Desktop:

Vienna Visit Contact

Vienna Visit Contact

Visiting Vienna for the first time?

A city full of the finer things in life, from palaces to pastries..

In Vienna, the coffee house isn't just a hangout—it's an institution. According to UNESCO, lingering over a newspaper with a pastry and a strong espresso drink is officially a cornerstone of Viennese culture. Walk off your slice of Sachertorte with a self-guided tour of the city's stunning traditional, Secessionist, and modern architecture, such as the Imperial Palace, the State Opera House, the Kirche am Steinhof, or the Kunsthistorisches Museum, an exercise in ornate geometry. If you are interested in an elaborate and detailed overview of the history of Vienna, the Austrian government provides just that.

Visit

Walking around Vienna is a feast for the eyes!

You should visit Vienna to experience the fantastic architecture and arts, through palaces, churches, museums and not to forget the opera house. Since you need more than one day in Vienna you will have

Vienna Visit Contact

You should visit Vienna to experience the fantastic architecture and arts, through palaces, churches, museums and not to forget the opera house. Since you need more than one day in Vienna you will have to find a place to sleep. A great way to start is to stay at the Sans Souci Boutique Hotel or at the Wombat's Hostel where you can either share a room or book a private room. Both have a great location, near the centre, but on the side of Schloss Schönbrunn, which is a must see. Your visit to Vienna could also make you enjoy delicious pastry in a majestic environment if you go to Café Central or Café Sperl for example. For dinner you can either stay in or you can order a schnitzel with 30 centimeters in diameter at Figlmüller. A more luxurious dinner and atmosphere can be found at Le Ciel in the Grand Hotel Wien.

Click on a button to see the recommendations:

Sleep

Eat

See

Vienna Visit Contact

Click on a button to see the recommendations:

Sleep

Eat

See

Vienna Visit Contact

Vienna Visit Contact

Contact

Let us know if you have any questions about Vienna.
Fill out the form below and we will get back to you.

Name

Email

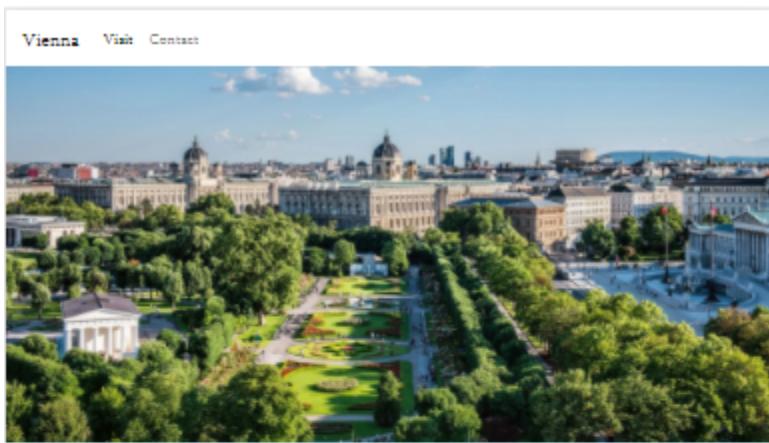

Write your question(s) here...

Submit question\(s\)

FOLLOW US

Ipad:

Visiting Vienna for the first time?

A city full of the finer things in life, from palaces to pastries..

In Vienna, the coffee house isn't just a hangout—it's an institution. According to UNESCO, lingering over a newspaper with a pastry and a strong espresso drink is officially a cornerstone of Viennese culture. Walk off your slice of Sachertorte with a self-guided tour of the city's stunning traditional, Secessionist, and modern architecture, such as the Imperial Palace, the State Opera House, the Kirche am Steinhof, or the Kunsthistorisches Museum, an exercise in ornate geometry. If you are interested in an elaborate and detailed overview of the history of Vienna, the Austrian government provides just that.

Visit

Walking around Vienna is a feast for the eyes!

You should visit Vienna to experience the fantastic architecture and arts, through palaces, churches, museums and not to forget the opera house. Since you need more than one day in Vienna you will have to find a place to sleep. A great way to start is to stay at the Sans Souci Boutique Hotel or at the Wemba's Hostel where you can either share a room or book a private room. Both have a great location, near the centre, but on the side of Schloss Schönbrunn, which is a must see. Your visit to Vienna could also make you enjoy delicious pastry in a majestic environment if you go to Café Central or Café Sperl for example. For dinner you can either stay in or you can order a schnitzel with 30 centimeters in diameter at Figlmüller. A more luxurious dinner and atmosphere can be found at Le Ciel in the Grand Hotel Wien.

Visit

Walking around Vienna is a feast for the eyes!

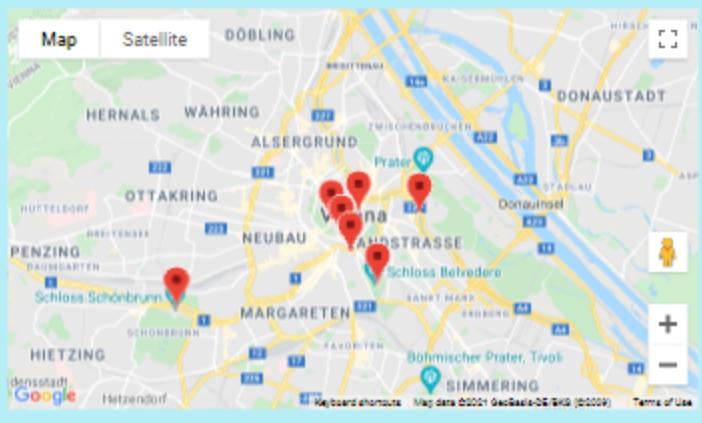

You should visit Vienna to experience the fantastic architecture and arts, through palaces, churches, museums and not to forget the opera house. Since you need more than one day in Vienna you will have to find a place to sleep. A great way to start is to stay at the Sans Souci Boutique Hotel or at the Wombat's Hostel where you can either share a room or book a private room. Both have a great location, near the centre, but on the side of Schloss Schönbrunn, which is a must see. Your visit to Vienna could also make you enjoy delicious pastry in a majestic environment if you go to Café Central or Café Sperl for example. For dinner you can either stay in or you can order a schnitzel with 30 centimeters in diameter at Figlmüller. A more luxurious dinner and atmosphere can be found at Le Ciel in the Grand Hotel Wien.

Click on a button to see the recommendations:

 Sleep

 Eat

 See

Vienna Visit Contact

Contact

Let us know if you have any questions about Vienna.
Fill out the form below and we will get back to you.

Name

Email

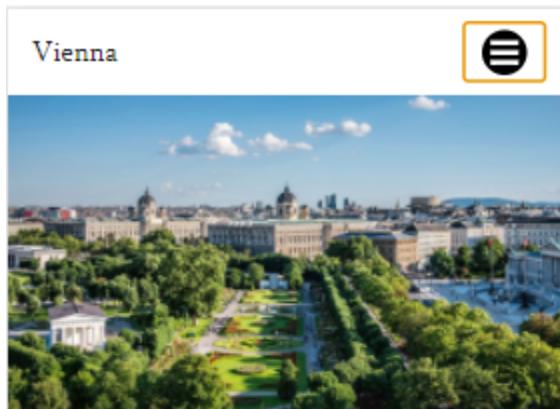

Write your question(s) here...

Submit question\(s\)

FOLLOW US

Mobile:

Visiting Vienna for the first time?

A city full of the finer things in life, from palaces to pastries..

In Vienna, the coffee house isn't just a hangout—it's an institution. According to UNESCO, lingering over a newspaper with a pastry and a strong espresso drink is officially a cornerstone of Viennese culture. Walk off your slice of Sachertorte with a self-guided tour of the city's stunning traditional, Secessionist, and modern architecture, such as the Imperial Palace, the State Opera House, the Kirche am Steinhof, or the State Opera House, the Kirche am Steinhof, or the Kunsthistorisches Museum, an exercise in ornate geometry. If you are interested in an elaborate and detailed overview of the history of Vienna, the Austrian government provides just that.

Vienna

Visit

Walking around Vienna is a feast for the eyes!

You should visit Vienna to experience the fantastic architecture and arts, through palaces, churches, museums and not to forget the opera house. Since you need more than one day in Vienna you will have to find a place to sleep. A great way to start is to stay at the Sans Souci Boutique Hotel or at the Wombat's Hostel where you can either share a room or book a private room. Both have a great location, near the centre, but on the side of Schloss Schönbrunn, which is a must see. Your visit to Vienna could also make you enjoy delicious pastry in a majestic environment if you go to pastry in a majestic environment if you go to Café Central or Café Sperl for example. For dinner you can either stay in or you can order a schnitzel with 30 centimeters in diameter at Figlmüller. A more luxurious dinner and atmosphere can be found at Le Ciel in the Grand Hotel Wien.

Vienna

Click on a button to see the recommendations:

Sleep

Eat

See

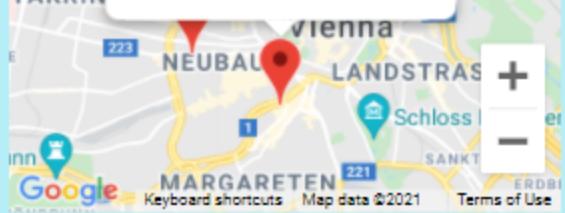

Vienna

front door to browse the food stalls and also the flea market on Saturday! We're easy to reach: the metro station Kettenbrückengasse (U4) is located just a few minutes away. Feel free to join in on different group activities and make new friends in our cheerful WomBar. You can share a room or even stay in a private room.

Find out more!

Contact

Vienna

Contact

Let us know if you have any questions about Vienna.

Fill out the form below and we will get back to you.

Name

Email

Write your question(s) here...

Submit question(s)

FOLLOW US

